Dear Sir:

I enjoyed speaking to you today in regard to an anti-semitic editorial in today's newspaper in San Ramon, CA. Please read it and take appropriate action as the writer is a syndicated columnist from Texas, so her editorials are obviously published in newspapers all over the U.S. I saw it in The San Ramon Valley Times, April 27, 2006.

The Name of the Syndicated Columnist (writer) is: MOLLY IVINS. She can be contacted at www.creators.com. No future editorials by her should be accepted by any newspapers in the U.S. - she should be dropped by all U.S newspapers. Title of the article is: "It's Not About Anti-Semitism; it's about a rational discussion."

The terrible part of the article is in the last part of the article where she says that the pro-Israel lobbyists are the reason we started the war with Iraq and that the Israel lobby "is now among the leading hawks on IRAN." She also says, "To the extent that our (American) interests do differ from those of Israel, the matter needs to be discussed calmly and fairly."

She says, "Israel is the No.1 recipient of American foreign aid, and an easy case can be made that the U.S. has subjugated its own interests to those of Israel." She writes that all Jews who will call her anti-semitic are just "NUTJOBS" - this is in the last sentence of her article - "I'm looking forward to hearing from all you nutjobs again" (referring to Jews who believe her to be anti-semitic).

Thank you for taking the time to read her editorial and taking action - contacting her is probably not the best way to handle it as she thinks that we jews are "nutjobs," although I am not the professional when it comes to handling these matters - you are the expert. I'd like to see her dropped from all newspapers - that would be the best in my opinion. Thanks again.
